| April 25, 2005"I served as a US security contractor in Iraq this past year. The Pak-Lite enabled me to navigate at night safely. I am thankful for the Pak-Lite that I carried, for it saved my life. I carried 2 other flashlights that failed. The Pak-Lite continued to work the entire time without ever having to change the battery. I finally quit carrying an extra battery after 2 months, when I realized I didn't need extra batteries. I'm currently sending Pak-Lite's to other teammates in Iraq and wouldn't even consider working there without a Pak-Lite. I am planning to return to Iraq soon, and will definitely be taking Pak-Lites to the team members that I will be working with."
